Professional experience

Since his admission to the Alberta Bar, Ian has concentrated his practice in litigation and dispute resolution for both plaintiffs and defendants. He has appeared before numerous tribunals and before all levels of the Alberta Courts. Ian deals with a wide range of issues and cases of substantial complexity.

Ian has extensive experience in both mediation and arbitration. In addition, he continues to be involved in the training of mediators and others wishing to develop or improve appropriate dispute resolution skills.

In his practice, and as a mediator, he explores avenues of common interests with a view to finding a workable resolution of civil disputes and business issues. Ian's strength is getting to the heart of the issues quickly and finding effective solutions in a timely manner.
